Why is Respect Important?

What does Respect Look Like?

Respectful Relationships

Respecting Yourself

A colorful illustration showing a group of diverse people holding up large, rectangular signs that spell out the word 'RESPECTS'. The signs are in alternating black and orange colors. The people are depicted in a simple, cartoonish style with various features like different hair colors, a beard, and a cap. The overall theme is one of unity and respect for diversity.

Why is Respect Important?

Receiving respect from others is important because it helps us to feel safe and to express ourselves.

- Being respected by important people in our lives growing up teaches us how to be respectful toward others.
- Respect means that you accept somebody for who they are, even when they're different from you or you don't agree with them.
- Respect doesn't have to come naturally – it is something you learn.

Respecting Yourself

- Being respectful toward others is one part of the puzzle. It 's important to have respect for yourself. Why?.
- Remember that you are important, valued, and you matter.
- What you think and feel is just as important as what somebody else thinks and feels.
- Ending a friendship or relationship that isn't respectful is a way of respecting yourself.

Respectful Relationships

Sometimes we find ourselves not feeling respected by other people, including our family or friends. Here are some things we can try:

- Show people what respect look like by being respectful yourself.
- Spend time with people who are respectful and make you feel safe.
- Talk to someone you trust like your parents, teachers, counselors.
- It's ok to end friendships with people if they can't be respectful and you don't feel safe around them.

A high-angle, top-down photograph of a diverse group of people of various ages and ethnicities. They are all looking upwards towards the center of the frame, where the word "Respect" is written in a bold, yellow, sans-serif font. Each person is making a peace sign (V-sign) with their hand, and the tips of their fingers are pointing towards the center, creating a circular pattern around the text. The lighting is bright and even, highlighting the skin tones and the variety of the group. The overall mood is positive and inclusive.
